

Alicia Sansone
Executive Vice President Communications, Marketing and Education
Loan Syndications and Trading Association, Inc.

Alicia Sansone is Executive Vice President of Communications, Marketing and Education for the LSTA, where she is responsible for the development of LSTA publications, seminars, conferences, website, and oversees media relations.

Alicia works closely with the LSTA membership in order to increase awareness of the LSTA and promote the loan asset class especially among institutional investors, distressed investors and hedge funds. In addition Alicia works with analysts and authors who specialize in the floating rate corporate loan asset class in order to provide better educational tools for our members

Prior to joining the LSTA, Alicia worked at Institutional Investor Magazine for over 9 years. Her most recent position at II was Associate Publisher and a member of the II Board of Directors, where she oversaw sales, marketing, circulation and new business development for this international monthly magazine.

Alicia is a Graduate of New England College. She has a B.A. degree in Communications